DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In both claims 2 and 3, "wherein the tool head..." renders the scope of the claims indefinite. From claim 1, it is understood that "A handle for a hand tool" subcombination is being claimed. Later in claims 2 and 3, however, "the tool head" is positively introduced in the claims. It is unclear whether a handle is being claimed or a handle-tool head combination is being claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-5, 7, 9-13, and 16-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Cooley (2,742,936). Note that '936 has a shaft 15, a tool head 10, a clamping handle 14, swivel surfaces 21, a pin 33, ridges 32 and valleys 29-31.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wang (4,614,452) in view of Cooley '936.

Wang discloses the invention as claimed but for the first and second surfaces (12, 22) being oblique to the shaft axis. Cooley teaches the first and second surfaces defining an angle of substantially 45 degrees to the axis, so that the gripping handle can be disposed axially or transversely to the axis of the implement. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the first and second surfaces of Wang oblique to the shaft axis as taught by Cooley so that the handle can be positioned either axially or transversely to the axis of the implement.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
